Course Description

For almost 30 years, the Berlin Wall was a symbol of the division of the city of Berlin, of Germany and of Europe during the era of the Cold War between the two superpowers, the United States of America and the Soviet Union. Consequently, the fall of the Wall in 1989 was a hugely symbolic turning point in world history.

But how can we explain the building of such a dividing monument? How can we account for its fall in 1989? And how does the Wall influence our lives today?

The course will provide answers to such questions via readings of texts from political science, sociology and history, in order to further investigate the ground on which the events between 1961 and 1989 took place.

Course Objective & Learning Outcomes

The aim of this online course is to introduce participants to the multi-faceted history of the Berlin Wall. After a brief introduction to the historical and ideological backgrounds of the Cold War this course will turn to a detailed analysis of the event history of the Berlin Wall: from the end of World War II via the formation of two blocs until the building of the Berlin Wall, from the building of the Wall via its fall in 1989 until today. To complete the picture of the history of the German/Berlin division and the Cold War, we will focus on the social, economic, and (popular) cultural history of the two German states and Germany since reunification.

Readings

Reading materials will be available via Moodle during the course.

Assignments

In order to be granted 5 ECTS, participants will be asked to actively attend all sessions (you may not miss more than one synchronous session), and to hand in weekly assignments as well as an academic paper (5 pages) on the topic.
