Course Description

In this course the students will explore how Jewish history in Germany, from 1933 to the present, is memorialized. This will be accomplished through lectures, workshops, and most crucially, visits to relevant sites in and around Berlin. Such visits form the basis of the empirical material to be related to the readings and theoretical frameworks contained in them and in the lectures. In addition to the tragic history that has defined the 20th century experience, students will have an opportunity to explore contemporary Jewish life and topics that continue to shape Berlin and Germany more widely. This course is anthropologically inflected and treats the museums, memorials, and other urban spaces as field sites to be explored and analyzed critically. The course will be divided into two blocks: First, the larger national memorialization undertaken by largely non-Jewish mainstream German agents. And second, we will explore how Jews living in Germany have negotiated and continue to inform and navigate this larger narrative.

The focus is on quality rather than quantity. The six readings are to be read carefully and discussion questions are to be prepared as assigned in advance of the class in question. (Dates and details will be announced once the schedule is set). The sites will be explored intensively with specific assignments and methods (conversation walk, field diary, participant observation). These will be explained during the class prior to each site visit.

This course can stand alone well, but can also be combined with the course offered in Summer Session 2: Interreligious and Intercultural Dialogue in Germany: Interrogating Memory and Migration
Course Objective & Learning Outcomes

By the end of the course, students will be able to:

Have first-hand experience of several key sites relating to Jewish history and contemporary life in Germany. Moreover, they will have developed some anthropological skills, such as the conversation walk method and reflective participant observation with which they can explore and analyze the sites and surrounding discourses critically.

They will have gained knowledge of and practice in key empirical field methods, which they will have used to approach a number of sites.

They will be in a position to compare and contrast larger dominant narratives of memory about Jews with, the lived experience of Jews in Germany today. Such comparisons are essential to gaining a grounded and nuanced understanding of the complex topic at hand.

Readings

A reader will be provided in advance of the course. Below is a list of readings as they will appear in the reader:

Required:

Suggested:

Supplemental:

Additional texts (newspaper articles etc.) will be handed out in class in order to include current events and issues as they occur.

Course Schedule

WEEK 1: Introduction to the concept of Self and Other and the Jewish Narrative in Germany. The larger culture of memory undertaken predominantly by non-Jewish agents will be explored here. Site visit to the Jewish Museum Berlin. Learning and implementing the conversation walk method. Readings 1-2 will be key to this week’s work.

WEEK 2: Exploration of further authentic sites (both “Jewish” and “non-Jewish”). Two site visits to locations where events actually took place are planned. Details to be announced and decided closer to the time. This may include The Sachsenhausen Concentration Camp Memorial and the New Synagogue, Berlin, and/or a Jewish Community Centre. Continuing with readings 3-4 will inform this week’s work.

WEEK 3: Guest lecture and workshop on contemporary Jewish life. Details to be announced. It may include a site visit. Reading 5-6 and current events material will be covered during this week.

WEEK 4: Four student presentations of group projects and summary of the course.
Assignments

1. Preparing the readings in advance, as assigned, and submitting discussion questions in advance of the class in question.

2. A group presentation, which should be on a topic related to the course. It can be about an actual site or a more abstract topic. Do clear this in advance with the instructor. You are to introduce the site/topic and using the methods we have practiced in class, present your assessment of the site/topic and the potential further research interests and discussion questions that arise from your exploration of the topic. The presentation should be ca. 1 hour in total length. This includes presentation, discussion and feedback.

3. Each student must hand in an individually-written research report (8-10 pages, double-spaced, 12 font, Times New Roman), which can be based on the presentation. Due date will be set closer to the time, but is usually fourteen days after the end of the course. The content should reflect the interests of the students as well as what will be explored together throughout the course. Specific guidelines for the report will be handed out at the beginning of the course.

Assessment Components

A minimum of 80% class attendance is required.

In order to be granted 5 ECTS, students are required to participate actively in all classes.

Your final grade will be composed of active attendance and participation. This includes:

1. Attending the classes and the field trips, taking part in the discussions
2. Doing the readings in time and preparing discussion questions on them in advance.
3. Taking part in a group presentation during class time.
4. An individually-written research report. (8-10 pages, double-spaced, Times New Roman) submitted by e-mail to the instructor, as a word or pdf. document only, fourteen days after the end of the course. (midnight Berlin time, July 27th, 2018).

The final grade will be composed in equal measure (25%) of i.) participation grades, this is for attendance in class discussions; ii.) preparation of the readings; iii.) the group presentation; and iv.) the individual research report.

Failure to fulfill one of the mentioned components results in failure of the class.

Expectations & Policies

Preparation for lively discussions in the classroom: be on time, have at least the required readings completed and points in mind for discussion or clarification.

Assignments: complete all assignments according to the specified requirements on schedule including handing over to the lecturer.

Commitment in class: pay particular attention to the lecturer and respect differences of opinions (classmates’, lecturers, local constituents engaged with on the visits).

Academic guidelines: Comply with academic integrity policies (such as no plagiarism or cheating, nothing unethical), especially the academic honor code and the student code of conduct (see FAQs on www.huwisu.de).

Attendance policy: No unexcused absences are permitted. Students must contact their class teachers to catch up on missed work – to excuse absence please contact the HUWISU office (80% class attendance are required).

Field trips: if classes involve a field trip or other external visits, these require attendance as well as appearance in time – transportation difficulties are never valid reasons for an excused absence.
Cultural Extra-curricular Activities

HUWISU offers a fine selection of interesting extra-curricular activities and aims to give all participants an unforgettable stay in Berlin. Your program includes excursions, sport activities and social gatherings providing you the opportunity to get to know the city, the university and your classmates better and to meet students from all parts of the world. The costs for these offers are included in the course fees.

Below you will find examples of previously offered cultural activities. You will be informed about the respective cultural program after your enrolment via email as well as during the course period.

Political and historical guided tours:

• Federal Chancellery (Bundeskanzleramt): It’s the central coordination point for the entire government policy. The office is in constant contact to departments and other authorities.

• German Parliament (Bundestag): As the highest organ of the legislative in Germany it’s elected by the German people. In practice Germany is governed by a bicameral legislature, of which the Bundestag serves as the lower house and the Bundesrat equals the upper house.

• House of Representatives (Abgeordnetenhaus): It’s the state parliament (Landtag) of Berlin and located in the center of the reunified city. Together with the Martin Gropius Bau, the Topography of Terror and the Bundesrat, it presents an arresting contrast to the flair of the new Potsdamer Platz.

• Topography of Terror: A permanent exhibition with focus on the central institutions of the SS and police during the “Third Reich” and the crimes they committed throughout Europe. With the help of mostly photographic material, visitors are led through the major themes of the exhibition’s five main segments.

• Political Archive: As the “memory” of the Federal Foreign Office it preserves the files on German diplomacy since 1867, as well as the international treaties signed by the Federal Republic of Germany and its predecessors in title. The records are preserved, processed and made available for academic research.

Cultural guided tours:

• Kreuzberg Tour: Kreuzberg has emerged from its history as one of the poorest quarters in Berlin in the late 1970s to a cultural center of today’s Berlin. A unique area and one of the hippest neighbourhoods in Berlin with many bars, pubs and clubs.

• Berlin’s Museum Island (Museumsinsel): was awarded UNESCO World Heritage Status in 1999 and is an ensemble of five museums: Old Museum, New Museum, Old National Gallery, Pergamon Museum and Bode Museum.

• Berliner Dom: Berlin’s largest and most important Protestant church is located on the Museum Island.

• Daytrip to Potsdam: Be inspired by the illustrious attractions of the UNESCO’s World Heritage while underway through the city of Potsdam. Immerse yourself in the history and present of Potsdam and discover many palaces, gardens, and historic quarters such as the “Holländisches Viertel” or the “Nikolaikirche”.

• Exhibitions: Berlin is known for its unique galleries and exhibitions, that is why we will visit at least one during the Winter University.

Social gatherings

• Welcome Get-Together: We invite you to meet all participants as well as the HUWISU staff in a relaxed atmosphere.

• Boat trip: Get to know Berlin from a completely new perspective and see Berlin’s famous sights while floating along the river Spree.

• Beach Volleyball: A fun outdoor sport activity on long warm summer evenings for those who love to play and everyone who just want to enjoy watching the others play, lying in the sand, meet friends for some drinks, or simply relax in the middle of Berlin.

• Biergarten: You can’t leave Berlin without having experienced a Biergarten. The perfect place to finish off your busy day with a cool “Feierabend” drink.

• Farewell Party: At the end of the Summer University we will come together to celebrate the exciting time with HUWISU.
Dr. Victoria Bishop Kendzia’s teaching method, although anthropologically inflected, is interdisciplinary in nature and is, therefore, not limited to the social sciences. It appeals to students from a wide variety of academic backgrounds from history to art, through to geography, theology, and politics.

The focus of her work is on the urban landscape, especially, but not only, museums and memorials in and around Berlin. In this context, locations are approached as field sites that can be read, explored, and critically analyzed as dynamic sites that project and reframe key aspects of history and culture. The urban laboratory that is Berlin is particularly well-suited to this endeavor, given the historical and cultural upheavals it has witnessed during the 20th century.

She defended her dissertation entitled: The Jewish Museum Berlin: Visitor Experience in the Context of Political Education in 2013 at the Institute for European Ethnology, Humboldt University Berlin under the supervision of Prof. Wolfgang Kaschuba and Prof. Sharon Macdonald. Her doctoral work was based on ethnography of young Berlin-based high school students in and around the Jewish Museum Berlin. She has a background in Museum Studies, having completed her master’s degree in this field from the University of Toronto, Canada in 2001 and her Bachelor of Arts Honours at the same university in 1999. She has been publishing scholarly articles in her field since 2009 and teaching at the university level since 2008. Her most recent publication is the monograph, (December) 2017 Visitors to the House of Memory. Political Education and Identity at the Jewish Museum Berlin. London and New York: Berghahn Books.
